Beyond that (and completely opposite to my previous pro-proviron stance of a few years ago), Provi is just a waste of time (especially when you can use masteron, get the same effects, but also much more). The average dose is generally around 50 mg daily, but people have used anywhere between 25 and 250 mg without experiencing any significant side effects. If you're hoping to achieve the benefits described above, 50 mg might suffice. Remember to start small to see if your body responds well to the compound. Proviron cycle proviron 25 or 50mg ED?
