Dosages of Sustanon normally range from 250 mg every other week, up to 2000 mg or more per week. These dosages seem to be the extremes. A more common dosage would range from 250 mg to 1000 mg per week. Although Sustanon remains active for up to a month, injections need taken at least once a week to keep testosterone levels stable. Sustanon 250 injection is a combination of four different types of esters. All four esters are androgens or anabolic steroids. Therefore, you are not allowed to inject Sustanon 250 without a valid prescription from your doctor. 4 Types of Testosterone
